- Technology Trends: Learn from industry experts and discuss the future of money.
- Networking: Get to know innovative startups, opinion leaders and discuss joint projects and new cooperative opportunities.

Procedure

Day 1

We will start the day with a casual kick-off breakfast and get you ready to be inspired. We will investigate traditional companies, such as Western Union, and take a deep dive into the innovative world of Fintech and Insurtech.

Day 2

We jump headfirst into learning about Silicon Valley startups. What do these innovators believe about the future of money? We will meet some startups, have a deep conversation with a well-known Fintech consultant, and drop by an accelerator.

Day 3

We discuss with experts from areas such as Artificial Intelligence, Big Data, Cryptocurrency and Blockchain about exponentially-growing technologies and their big global challenges.

Day 4

What do Facebook, Google and the other big players in Silicon Valley think about the future of money? Do they have all the information to fundamentally change the industry and actively shape the future of money? You will learn how these tech giants are innovating in the financial space.

Day 5

The future of money is all about community. You will find out what you need to learn from your customers from Working Spaces, Business Model Architects and other educators and enjoy a farewell dinner.
